Scott F. Denniston
Director, Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization
Department of Veterans Affairs

Scott Denniston has taken a personal interest in supporting veteran-owned businesses, and his bosses in Washington, D.C., have noticed.

His office developed a database of more than 10,000 veteran-owned businesses to help agencies identify such contractors for business opportunities.

Denniston, himself a Vietnam-era Army veteran, has been a passionate advocate for businesses owned by service-disabled veterans. His efforts contributed to President Bush's decision to issue an executive order creating special contracting categories for such businesses.

"The guy travels on weekends, spends nights and evenings" working on this issue, said John Moliere, president of Standard Communications and a fellow veteran.
